

Private/ Commercial

RP Constructors really shines because we can complete surveying, engineering, and construction all in-house. There are a lot of balls getting thrown in the air, and we make sure nothing drops and hits the ground. Our ability to expertly self-perform all aspects of a project is different from other companies because they aren't used to talking among different teams. Our surveyors know what the engineers need, and the engineers know what the constructors need.

“That takes a lot of trust. We get it, and we’re willing to stand behind our work to prove that to you. If we build something and we believe it was not our best work, we will fix it, and we will not send you a bill. It is the right thing to do. Your success means we are on time, within budget, and complete quality and safe work.”

Private/Commercial Projects

Lazy H Campground

Akron, Iowa

Justin Higman, the owner of Lazy H Campground in Akron, Iowa, wanted to create a state-of-the-art campground complete with hard surface roads and pads, Wi-Fi capabilities, water, and sewer hookups. Higman's vision was to have the nicest campground in the area while boosting the local economy. The construction of the project was complete in one year.

Gelita USA Inc.

Sergeant Bluff, Iowa

When the world's largest gelatin manufacturer needed its entire railway system reconstructed, RP Constructors stepped up to successfully complete the job, while minimizing downtime. Gelita USA Inc. contracted RP Constructors to overhaul the entire system and collaborate with another firm to get the job done. The project was a starting point for a long-term working partnership between Gelita, RP Constructors and CEC, RP Constructors' in-house engineering firm.

Food Manufacturing Facility

Nebraska

When a food manufacturer in Nebraska needed a new, innovative solution to handle wastewater, RP Constructors and its sister company, CEC, quickly stepped in to solve the issue, limiting disruptions to production. The client had two issues, a wastewater lift station that wasn't functioning properly, and an unexpected need to quickly change their biosolids dewatering method.
